Completion of Water Projects

†*216. SHRI RAM JETHMALANI:
SHRI KAPIL SIBAL:

Will the Minister of WATER RESOURCES be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government have decided to expedite completion of some of the projects, selected from the ongoing water projects, in 1996 itself under a new scheme;

(b) if so, the details of the projects selected so far; and

(c) the number of projects out of the same completed by March, 2003 and the total additional irrigation-potential brought about thereby?

THE MINISTER OF WATER RESOURCES (SHRI ARJUN CHARAN SETHI): (a) to (c) Irrigation being a State subject, the responsibility of planning, investigation, funding alongwith priority execution, operation and maintenance of irrigation projects, including irrigation and flood control primarily rests with the concerned State Governments themselves.

Concerned with a large number of major and medium irrigation projects spilling over into Ninth Five Year Plan, the Central Government launched the Accelerated Irrigation Benefits Programme (AIBP) during 1996-97 for accelerating implementation of such ongoing irrigation/multi-purpose projects on which substantial progress has been made and which are beyond the resources capability of the State Governments and for other major and medium irrigation projects which are in an advanced stage of completion and could yield irrigation benefits in next four agricultural seasons. 171 major/medium irrigation projects were included under this programme and an irrigation potential of 2195.086 thousand hectare was created upto March, 2003. A total of 24 projects could be completed after commencement of the programme and potential
